FASI Consulting, LLC is a controls engineering consulting firm founded by Jonas Peku, a veteran in the industry with experience at companies like Ward Machinery, Durr Systems, and General Motors. Initially serving Northern Illinois and Wisconsin, the firm has expanded nationwide. A significant growth milestone was a multiyear contract with Takata Corporation (now Joyson Safety Systems), where FASI implemented the GPRP system at their Moses Lake, WA plant. This project included developing an SQL database, automating data exchange, robotizing assembly line part loading stations, and rewriting PLC programs for existing machines.
